

Great Canadian Parks explores the diverse natural and human histories within one of the most comprehensive parks systems in the world. Along with host Peter Trueman, this documentary television series introduces you to the fascinating human and wildlife habitats within these protected spaces and takes you on a journey through some of the most spectacular landscapes Canada has to offer.

"Trueman, ... takes off his tie, puts on his squall jacket and guides the armchair camper through some of the most beautiful and ecologically important terrain in Canada. The series is very eye-pleasing. Director of photography Ibor Macijiwsky is brilliant... Great Canadian Parks lets you sample the great outdoors from the comfort of the great indoors - no bugs, no outdoor biffys, no rains and, unless the in-laws are over, no dangerous carnivores."

Montreal Gazette

"Magnificent panoramic photography is matched with aerial and underwater camera work to make each episode a visual feast..."

Victoria Times-Colonist

"...Great Canadian Parks captures all this activity with vivid footage that is a testament to the superior camerawork of this series"
